Case No. 2:23-cv-3505

COMPLAINT FOR:

- 1) FEDERAL TRADEMARK
INFRINGEMENT (15 U.S.C. § 1114)
2) TRADEMARK DILUTION (15
U.S.C. § 1125)

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

20 Plaintiff Riot Games, Inc. (“Riot Games” or “Plaintiff”) brings this Complaint
21 against Defendant Bettermeant, Inc. (“Bettermeant” or “Defendant”) for (i) federal 22 trademark infringement in violation of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1114, et seq. and 23 (ii) trademark dilution in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1125 and alleges as follows:

24 INTRODUCTION

25 1. How does a struggling underfunded tech startup distinguish itself in the 26 marketplace? Bettermeant’s answer to this was to change its name to one of the most 27 popular free-to-play first-person shooter video games in the world.

28 2. Since at least June of 2021, Bettermeant has been willfully and

1 intentionally trading on the goodwill and popularity of one of Riot Games’s most
2 popular games, Valorant, by branding itself and operating as Valorant Health. While 3 initially doing business by its company name, Bettermeant decided to rebrand as
4 Valorant Health knowing that the word “Valorant” was globally associated with Riot
5 Games and that Riot Games was and continues to be the exclusive owner of all
6 trademarks registered with the United States Patent and Trademark Office (the 7 “USPTO”) that use the word “Valorant.”

8 3. Riot Games takes no issue with the mission of Bettermeant to provide 9 healthcare access to others and, in fact, commends the work that Bettermeant is 10 aiming to do. However, to do so on the backs of those at Riot Games who spent 11 enormous effort making famous the new brand “Valorant” runs against the grain of 12 Bettermeant’s purported moral compass, especially when it causes confusion
13 amongst Riot Games’s players, which it already has.

14 4. Even if Bettermeant believed before it changed its name to Valorant
15 Health that its target consumers, military veterans and their families, ultimately 16 would not confuse its online health care platform with Riot Games’s insanely popular
17 Valorant, and ignoring that some would be disappointed that there is no access to the 18 game on Valorant Health’s website, Bettermeant knew that coopting the made-up
19 Valorant name would direct potential customers to its website, a cheap way to gain
20 an illicit advantage over its competitors.

21 5. Bettermeant’s decision here constitutes initial interest confusion, at the 22 very least, which violates the Lanham Act. Since Bettermeant admits it knew of Riot
23 Games’s Valorant at the time of its rebranding and chose to use the name anyway, it
24 acted intentionally in a manner that can render this case exceptional. Bettermeant 25 knew, or should have known, of its duty to avoid consumer confusion in any of its 26 forms, and the Lanham Act frowns on the efforts to misappropriate the goodwill of 27 another. Bettermeant must change its name, something it can do now voluntarily, or 28 await a court to order it to do so.

THE PARTIES

6. Plaintiff Riot Games, Inc. is a corporation organized pursuant to the laws of Delaware with a principal place of business in Los Angeles, California. Riot Games is one of the world's leading video game developers and international Esports operators, known for its premier game, League of Legends, and its Esports counterpart, the League of Legends World Championship. More recently, Riot Games has garnered even more popularity with the June 2020 release of its first-person shooter game, Valorant. Most importantly, however, Riot Games is known amongst its loyal players as always putting player experience first and above all else, which is what compels Riot Games to bring this action.

7. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and on that basis alleges, that Defendant Bettermeant, Inc. was founded in 2018 and is a corporation organized pursuant to the laws of Delaware with a principal place of business in Berkeley, California.

8. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and on that basis alleges, that Does 1-50 are persons or entities responsible in whole or in part for the wrongdoing alleged herein ("Doe Defendants"). Each of the Doe Defendants participated in, ratified, endorsed, and/or was otherwise involved in the acts complained of, and they have liability for such acts. Plaintiff will amend this Complaint if and when the identities of such persons or entities and/or the scope of their actions become known.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

9. Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §§ 1114 and 1125, this Court has subject matter jurisdiction over Plaintiff's claims for relief for violation of the Lanham Act.

10. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and on that basis alleges, that this Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because it has extensive contacts with, and conducts business within, the State of California and this judicial district; Defendant has advertised and promoted its products and services in this judicial district; the causes of action asserted in this Complaint arise out of Defendant's

1 contacts with this judicial district; and because Defendant has caused tortious injury
2 to Plaintiff in this judicial district.

3 11. Venue is proper in this judicial district under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)
4 because Defendant has extensive contacts with, and conducts business within, the 5 State of California and this judicial district; Defendant has advertised and promoted
6 its products and services in this judicial district; the causes of action asserted in this 7 Complaint arise out of Defendant's contacts with this judicial district; and because 8 Defendant has caused tortious injury to Plaintiff in this judicial district.

9 FACTS COMMON TO ALL CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

10 The Meteoric Rise of Valorant the Video Game

11 12. From the moment Riot Games announced in March of 2020 a closed
12 beta for a new game that it would call Valorant, the consuming public immediately
13 identified this made-up name with Riot Games. Since its public release in June of 14 2020, Valorant has remained one of the most consistently played free-to-play video
15 games on the internet and, more importantly for this case, has consistently been one
16 of Google's top search terms, as reflected on the graph below from Google trends.¹

17 Since Google trends show no public interest in Valorant before Riot Games's 18 announcement, it is safe to say that all of this interest relates to public association of 19 Valorant with Riot Games.

20 21. Within the first month of its official release in June of 2020, Valorant
22 reached an average active player count of 15 million. This number remains the 23 monthly average of active players almost three years later, a feat only a handful of

1 video games have achieved.

2 14. Valorant's release was also met with immediate praise from critics and 3 recognition as a nominee of the Game Awards, for which it received nominations for 4 Best Community Support, Best Multiplayer Game, and Esports Game of the Year in 5 2020, only months after its release. Valorant has been nominated for Esports Game
6 of the Year by the Game Awards every year since its release and ultimately won in 7 2022. Valorant was also nominated by the BAFTA Awards for Best Multiplayer
8 Game and EE Game of the Year in 2021.

9 15. In November 2020, due to the overwhelming popularity of the game,
10 Riot Games announced the first Valorant Champions Tour, an Esports tournament
11 series, in which 10,000 teams ultimately competed. The Washington Post has slated
12 the Valorant Champions Tour to become the "next big Esport."²

13 16. Needless to say, Valorant has become a household name for millions of 14 people across the world.

15 Riot Games's VALORANT Marks

16 17. Since the release of Valorant, Riot Games has extensively promoted 17 Valorant through a variety of media outlets, including through its website; various 18 gaming influencers on Twitch and YouTube Live; and social media platforms, such 19 as Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Tik Tok, Twitch, and YouTube. Screen captures of 20 Riot Games's Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Tik Tok, Twitch, and YouTube
21 accounts for Valorant that were taken on May 3, 2023 are collectively attached to 22 this Complaint as Exhibit 1. As can be seen from Exhibit 1, Riot Games's Facebook
23 page for Valorant has over 1.4 million likes; the Valorant Twitter account is being
24 followed by over 2.8 million Twitter users; the Valorant Instagram account has 1.2
25 million followers; the Valorant Tik Tok account has 1.3 million followers; the 26 Valorant Twitch account has over 16.4 million followers; and Valorant's YouTube

27
28 ² <https://www.washingtonpost.com/video-games/esports/2022/07/25/valorant-partners-esports/>

1 page has over 2 million subscribers. Riot Games has invested substantial sums in 2 media and related content to promote Valorant.

3 18. To protect the investment in and to the brand, Riot owns the following
4 US trademark registrations for the mark VALORANT:

- 5 a) Registration No. 6464856 for VALORANT in IC 25
- 6 b) Registration No. 6450143 for VALORANT in IC 41
- 7 c) Registration No. 6429735 for VALORANT in IC 09
- 8 d) Registration No. 6397625 for VALORANT in IC 38
- 9 e) Registration No. 6397624 for VALORANT in IC 20

10 19. Riot also owns various design marks that utilize the Valorant mark:

- 11 a) Registration No. 6286133 for VALORANT in IC 41
- 12 b) Registration No. 6286132 for VALORANT in IC 38
- 13 c) Registration No. 6286131 for VALORANT in IC 28
- 14 d) Registration No. 6286130 for VALORANT in IC 25
- 15 e) Registration No. 6286129 for VALORANT in IC 20
- 16 f) Registration No. 6286128 for VALORANT in IC 18
- 17 g) Registration No. 6286127 for VALORANT in IC 16
- 18 h) Registration No. 6286126 for VALORANT in IC 09

19 (collectively, the “VALORANT Marks”). The registration certificates for each 20 registration are collectively attached to this Complaint as Exhibit 2.

21 20. As of the date of this Complaint, Riot Games remains the exclusive
22 owner of all marks registered with the USPTO that include the word “Valorant.”

23 21. Since April 2020, Riot Games’s use of the VALORANT Marks has been 24 extensive, continuous, and substantially exclusive.

25 22. Riot Games has made, and continues to make, substantial investments
26 of time, effort, and money in the development, production, and promotion of Valorant
27 and the VALORANT Marks.

28 23. The VALORANT Marks are unique and distinctive and, as such,

1 designate a single source of origin. Specifically, “valorant” is not a real word
2 included in any English dictionary and was made famous only through Riot Games’s
3 efforts to achieve widespread fame for its game, Valorant, and the VALORANT
4 Marks.

5 24. As a result of Riot Games’s efforts and use, the VALORANT Marks
6 have come to be recognized by the public and members of the video game community
7 as being associated exclusively with Riot Games and its video game, Valorant.

8 25. Riot Games expends substantial effort and expense to protect the 9 VALORANT Marks’ distinctiveness in the marketplace and further extensively
10 polices unauthorized use of the VALORANT Marks.

11 26. The VALORANT Marks are a property right of incalculable value as 12 they have, for the last nearly three years, enjoyed unquestionable fame as a result of 13 the favorable general public acceptance and recognition.

14 Bettermeant’s Willful Infringement of VALORANT

15 27. On June 2, 2021, more than a year after Valorant had been released, 16 Bettermeant announced it was changing its name to Valorant Health after having 17 operated under the name Bettermeant since its founding in 2018.

18 28. In making this name change, Bettermeant hired a naming consultant, 19 Tyler Doyle, to come up with some name options. Mr. Doyle was referred to 20 Bettermeant through one of its investors who had previously engaged Mr. Doyle for 21 a name change of his own company.

22 29. While it’s generally Mr. Doyle’s practice to take about six weeks to 23 develop a name, here it took Mr. Doyle only one week to come up with “Valorant.”
24 While Mr. Doyle coyly now claims not to remember where his inspiration came from,
25 he conceded it’s possible he may have heard of Riot Games’s use in passing, which 26 is not surprising since Mr. Doyle identifies as an avid gamer since the age of two,
27 playing “about an hour a day.”

28 30. When Mr. Doyle presented Bettermeant’s founder and CEO, Ahmed

1 Qureshi, with the name “Valorant,” he also identified Riot Games’s use of the name
2 “Valorant.” Mr. Doyle now defends his decision based on purported advice he
3 received from an attorney, even though no detailed legal analysis of the purported
4 advice he received exists.

5 31. Bettermeant’s decision makers were also well aware of Riot Games’s
6 prior use of Valorant. In fact, one of its principal investors who had experience going 7 through a name change for his own company, expressed multiple concerns about the 8 use of “Valorant” in the face of Riot Games’s use of the name and suggested using 9 “Salute” instead. Yet in the face of these potential conflicts identified by multiple 10 people, Mr. Qureshi unilaterally chose “Valorant” and immediately acquired 11 Valorant-related domains. See generally Ex. 3.

12 The Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (“TTAB”) Proceeding

13 32. On May 31, 2021, Bettermeant filed its application (the “Application”)
14 to register the mark “Valorant” in international classes 9, 42, and 44. Ex. 4.

15 33. Upon publication, Riot Games promptly contacted Bettermeant in the 16 hopes of amicably resolving concerns over consumer confusion. Bettermeant, 17 however, had no interest. As a result, Riot Games filed an opposition before the 18 TTAB.

19 Harm to Riot Games and the General Public Through Actual Confusion

20 34. Bettermeant’s use of VALORANT or any similar designation thereto, 21 creates a likelihood of confusion as to the source, sponsorship, affiliation, or 22 endorsement of Bettermeant’s goods and services, and is likely to falsely suggest a
23 sponsorship, connection, license, or association of Bettermeant and Valorant Health
24 with Riot Games and its video game, Valorant.

25 35. Demonstrating beyond a likelihood of confusion, one Riot Games user
26 has demonstrated actual confusion in the time that Bettermeant has argued that there
27 would be no likelihood of confusion between its services under “Valorant Health”
28 and Riot Games’s services under “Valorant.”

36. On October 8, 2022, a member of the Valorant video game community visited Bettermeant's website at www.valoranthealth.com and submitted a help request that reads:

noreply@valoranthealth.com <noreply@valoranthealth.com>
To: support@valoranthealth.com

Sat, Oct 8, 2022 at 10:36 PM

User [REDACTED]@gmail.com requested help with the following message. beacuse of light issue i was disconnected and i got ban of 151 hours means 6 days . in my game my freinds were throwing . my id is PREDATOR YT #NHK

Ex. 5.

37. When questioned in the TTAB proceeding about this email, Mr. Qureshi refused to admit that the email was meant for Riot Games and brushed it off as irrelevant:

Question: When you read this email for the first time, what was your response to it?

Answer: We didn't do anything.

Question: What did Ryan tell you about this email when he showed it to you?

Answer: That -- received an email that didn't seem like it was addressed to us.

Question: When you read this email, who did you think it was supposed to go to?

Answer: Not us. Didn't seem relevant.

Question: Did you realize that maybe this was meant to go to Riot for the "Valorant" game?

Answer: I thought that was a possibility.

Question: Would you agree with me that this email demonstrates a negative effect on Riot's "Valorant" mark?

Answer: No.

Question: Well, it certainly doesn't demonstrate a positive one, right? I mean, the user got the company wrong, right?

Answer: I -- they're confused. That's all I could -- I want to say

1 about that.

2 Bettermeant's Continued Infringing Use of VALORANT

3 38. Since its announcement in June 2021 of its rebranding as “Valorant
4 Health,” Bettermeant has been continuously using and promoting “Valorant” in 5 relation to its goods and services, and it does so with the intention that people
6 remember it as just “Valorant” rather than “Valorant Health”:

7 Question: So all six names that Mr. Doyle proposed here all have 8 “Health” at the back of them, right?

9 Answer: Yes. If they’re a healthcare company, yeah.

10 Question: So really you were choosing between the first words of 11 each of these six choices, correct?

12 Answer: Yes.

13 Question: Okay. And those first words of each of the six choices are 14 the distinguishing words of those proposed names,
15 correct?

16 Answer: Yes.

17 Question: So when someone refers to your company, you would 18 want them to remember the distinguishing word, like
19 “Valorant” or “Foxtrot,” correct?

20 Answer: I suppose.

21 Question: Do you ever refer to your company as just “Valorant”
22 without the “Health” part?

23 Answer: Yes.

24 Question: Do your employees refer to the company as “Valorant”
25 without the “Health” part?

26 Answer: Yes.

27 Question: Do your investors refer to the company as “Valorant”
28 without the “Health” part?

Answer: Yes.

145438976.1

1 39. Bettermeant's continued use of "Valorant" has irreparably harmed Riot
2 Games and the Valorant brand it has worked so hard to establish.

3 40. Similarly, Bettermeant's continued use of "Valorant" has irreparably
4 harmed the general public, which has an inherent interest in being free from the 5 confusion, mistake, and deception actually caused by Bettermeant.

6 FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

7 Federal Trademark Infringement

8 15 U.S.C. § 1114

9 41. Riot Games incorporates by reference the factual allegations set forth
10 above.

11 42. Riot Games owns the VALORANT Marks and first used them in or 12 about March 2020 when it announced the release of the Valorant video game, which 13 immediately created significant buzz around the game before it was released on a
14 limited basis in April of 2020 and then publicly in June 2020. Riot Games's March 15 2020 first use is more than one year prior to Bettermeant's first use of the 16 VALORANT Marks in June 2021.

17 43. Bettermeant's actions as described above and specifically, without 18 limitation, its willful use of the VALORANT Marks in commerce to advertise,
19 promote, market, and sell its goods and services throughout the United States
20 including California, constitute trademark infringement in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 21 1114.

22 44. Bettermeant's use of the VALORANT Marks will likely cause
23 confusion as to the origin and authenticity of its goods and services and will likely 24 cause others to believe that there is a relationship between it and Riot Games when 25 there is not.

26 45. Through its use of the VALORANT Marks, Bettermeant intended to,
27 and did actually confuse and mislead Riot Games's consumers into believing, and 28 misrepresented and created the false impression, that Riot Games somehow

1 authorized, originated, sponsored, approved, licensed, or participated in
2 Bettermeant's use of the Mark.

3 46. As a direct and proximate result of Bettermeant's wrongful conduct,
4 Riot Games has been and will continue to be damaged. Riot Games has suffered and 5 continues to suffer damages in an amount to be proven at trial consisting of, among 6 other things, diminution in the value of and goodwill associated with the 7 VALORANT Marks and injury and interference to its business and customer
8 relationships, specifically as it relates to the Valorant video game and which can be 9 demonstrated through the actual instance of confusion by a Riot Games consumer.
10 Pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117, Riot Games is also entitled to recover damages in an 11 amount to be determined at trial, profits made by Bettermeant on sales of its goods
12 and services, and the costs of this action.

13 47. Furthermore, Bettermeant's actions were undertaken willfully with the 14 knowledge that Riot Games was already using the VALORANT Marks and with the 15 intention of causing confusion, mistake, or deception, making this an exceptional
16 case entitling Riot Games to recover additional treble damages and reasonable
17 attorneys' fees pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117.

18 SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

19 Federal Trademark Dilution

20 15 U.S.C. § 1125

21 48. Riot Games incorporates by reference the factual allegations set forth
22 above.

23 49. The VALORANT Marks are distinctive, unique, and famous as 24 described above. Riot Games has invested significant time and money into the global 25 promotion of the Valorant video game and the VALORANT Marks and, as a result
26 of that effort, has achieved international notoriety around the name and the video
27 game for which it is a title to. The VALORANT Marks are well known to the trade 28 and members of the consuming public, who generally and readily identify the

1 Valorant video game and the VALORANT Marks with Riot Games.

2 50. The VALORANT Marks are further distinctive and unique because 3 VALORANT is a not a word in any English dictionary and only became part of the 4 general public's common vocabulary due to the fame it obtained in association with 5 Riot Games's video game, Valorant.

6 51. Bettermeant changed its name to Valorant Health more than one year
7 after Riot Games started using the VALORANT Marks and after it achieved an 8 extremely high degree of recognition among consumers.

9 52. Bettermeant's conduct in the continuous promotion, advertisement,
10 offering for sale or distribution and/or the sale or distribution of its goods and services
11 under the VALORANT Marks or colorable imitations thereof constitutes dilution of 12 the VALORANT Marks, in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1125, and such conduct dilutes
13 and/or tarnishes the distinctive quality of the VALORANT Marks by diminishing
14 Riot Games's ability to identify and distinguish its products.

15 53. Riot Games has been actually damaged and deprived of the value of its 16 trademarks as commercial assets, in an amount to be proven.

3. An order finding that, by the acts complained of above, Bettermeant has infringed on Riot Games's trademarks in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1114.

1 4. An order finding that, by the acts complained of above, Bettermeant has 2 diluted Riot Games's trademarks in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1125.

3 5. An order awarding Riot Games damages, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117,
4 Riot Games's actual damages, as well as all of Bettermeant's profits or gains of any 5 kind from their acts of trademark infringement, including a trebling of those damages.

6 6. An order, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117, finding that this is an
7 exceptional case and awarding Riot Games its reasonable attorneys' fees.

8 7. An order, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117, awarding Riot Games all of its 9 costs, disbursements, and other expenses incurred due to Bettermeant's unlawful 10 conduct.

11 8. An order awarding Riot Games such other relief as the Court deems 12 appropriate.

The deadlines and grace periods for the Declarations of Use (or Excusable Nonuse) are identical to those for nationally issued registrations. See 15 U.S.C. §§1058, 1141k. However, owners of international registrations do not file renewal applications at the USPTO. Instead, the holder must file a renewal of the underlying international registration at the International Bureau of the World Intellectual Property Organization, under Article 7 of the Madrid Protocol, before the expiration of each ten-year term of protection, calculated from the date of the international registration. See 15 U.S.C. §1141j. For more information and renewal forms for the international registration, see <http://www.wipo.int/madrid/en/>.

Hi Ahmed,

I have good news for you! Valorant Health and Foxtrot Health both got Bs on the A-F scale that my lawyer assigns marks. That means that you have a good chance of successfully registering them as trademarks with the USPTO.

I'd recommend that you look at URLs for each (my favorite tool is gandi.net), and if you find one that you like, I can connect you with my lawyer to begin the registration process. I believe his fee is between $1000-$1500 to conduct the process from end-to-end, which can take a few months.

Thanks,
Tyler

Hi Tyler,

Thanks for the update! It is great to hear!

I am conducting an internal poll of the team to see if folks have feedback on the names. So far it seems to be leaning heavily towards Valorant Health!

It would be great to get connected with your lawyer to begin the process of registration.

Do you all think it's worth considering Salute Health in addition to Valorant Health?

What was the tm conflict there Tyler?

Salute seems more clear to me on a web search given the Riot Games brand around Valorant.

My lawyer gave Salute Health a C, so it's on the bubble. This is territory where less conservative lawyers would push for registration. Trevor can tell you more about the ins and outs—I'm not even remotely close to being a lawyer.

From a naming perspective, it's more on-the-nose military than Valorant, which feels more flexible for non-military applications.

It seems from the trademarks listed that none would really conflict (I am not a lawyer), but I imagine we can get aggressive and still get the trademark especially for "Salute Health"

Just an option worth considering given the crowdedness of the web search for Valorant.

Yeah, it's all down to your appetite for risk, and your need for an immediate rebrand. It'll take months to know if you have the mark secured or not. If you can wait to rebrand until you know for sure, then a risky mark makes more sense. If you need to rebrand tomorrow, you might want to be more conservative.

Hi All,

Parth- Great points! I agree that Valorant could have trip-ups but hopefully the medical landscape is clear. I have acquired valorant health and valorant medical domains as well. Happy to keep Salute in the running, but a few of the concerning overlapping sections of the trademark include:

- Employment counseling and placement services for persons with traumatic brain injuries, post-traumatic stress disorder, or a physical disability
- Physical therapy services; physical rehabilitation services; occupational therapy services; speech therapy services; psychological counseling; behavioral health counseling; physiological therapy services; providing physical and mental rehabilitation facilities; medical services; nursing services

Tyler- Thanks for the information and the breakdown of the strategy. I will connect with your counsel to discuss the next steps.

Very Respectfully,
Ahmed 'Eddie' Qureshi

I hope you are doing well.

I wanted to reach out as our team is in some discussions with another entity about the use of the trademark "Valorant" which you helped us find. They are requesting any market research or grading information you had found. If you have any accessible, I would greatly appreciate it if you could share it. Thank you!
